SENATOR SMOOT BEGINS DEFENSE

Committee Room Crowded During The Trial.

MOST OF SPECTATORS WOMEN

William McConnell Was First Witness and Told About the Political Status of Affairs in Utah and Other Mormon Communities.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The defense in the Senator Reed Smoot investigation was begun today. The room of the senate committee on privileges and elections was as crowded as during the progress of the inquiry into the secrets of the Mormon church, which was conducted by the attorney for the Protestants against Senator Smoot retaining his seat. Most of the spectators were women.

Senator Knox, recently appointed a member of the committee, attended the hearing today for the first time.

William J. McConnell, of northern Idaho, was the first witness called. The examination was conducted by Waldemar Van Cott, of Salt Lake, who is associated with A. S. Worthington, of Washington, as counsel of Senator Smoot. Mr. McConnell described his occupation as former merchant, politician and lawyer for his friends. He was a senator of the fifty-first congress and was governor of Idaho from 1890 to 1896, inclusive serving two successive terms.

He is a member of the Presbyterian church. The witness was asked to describe the political conditions and took up early days when he said he had lobbied before the legislature when the first effort was made to disfranchise the Mormons. He declared that he was prejudiced against Mormons, but that he found that most of the Gentiles were practicing "the science, which in our country is called poker." He said he had never known Mormons to gamble and drink. He followed this testimony with a review of his acquaintance with Mormons during the agitation against the religion in Idaho. He assisted in bringing about the repeal of the test oath among the Mormons on a lecture tour. He had observed the people, he said, and their morals was of a high, praiseworthy character.

Senator Knox asked counsel to inform him as to what part of the case the examination of Mr. McConnel was relevant. Mr. Worthington said he was unable to answer that conundrum, but that a great mass of irrelevant testimony was admitted for the Protestants to which objection had been made and overruled. He said the testimony of Mr. McConnell was in reply to this and particularly to that of Charles H. Jackson, chairman of the Idaho Democratic committee, who testified that no candidate for office, Democrat or Republican, could stand against the Mormon church. The witness was asked concerning the causes of the Mormon vote being cast for Gooding in his canvass for governor and said he was surprised that any Mormons had voted the Democratic ticket. He gave as one reason that he had challenged Senator Dubois to a public debate and received an answer declining the invitation on the ground that he could not afford time to debate with any one who was not a candidate for office in the party which was "defending criminals, as he believed the Mormons to be." He submitted a lithographed reproduction of Senator Dubois' letter. "Was that letter personal to you?" asked Senator Dubois.

"It was an answer to my challenge. It was not marked personal."

"Well; all right," the senator started to reply, and stopped, abruptly dismissing the subject. Senator McCo has objected to political discussions, and when the witness digressed to say that Democrats left their party following the election of President Cleveland, the senator asked the witness to confine himself to the question of whether the Mormons interfered in politics. Mr. McConnell repeated a number of reasons why the Democratic party was benefited by the Mormon church, saying that one of the principal causes was that Senator Dubois called the Mormons criminals.

CHADWICK JEWELS LOCATED.

It Is Said Woman Paid No Duty on the Gems.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 12.—Officials of the customs department have succeeded in locating more than $50,000 worth of diamonds and jewels owned by Mrs. Chadwick, upon which, it is declarel, no duty was paid when they were brought into this country from Europe. Most of these valuables, it is said, are in the hands of persons in this city, who hold them as security for loans made to Mrs. Chadwick.

Sheriff Mulhern stated today that H. B. Skadden, who, according to a dispatch from Jacksonville, Fla., is there as a deputy sheriff from this city in connection with the Chadwick case, has no official connection whatever with the sheriff's office. Mr. Mulhern said Skadden is not a deputy sheriff.

Jewels May Be In Florida.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 12.—H. B. Skadden, who claims to be a deputy sheriff of Cyhoga county, O., is here from Cleveland and presumbaly interested in the Chadwick case. Mr. Skadden arrived here several days ago and has been keeping very quiet. Today it was learned that he is here on business and that the Chadwick dismonds and jewelry may be in Jacksonville.

WRECK ON COAST LINE.

Spreading Rails Causes Train to Leave the Track.

Savanah, Ga., Jan. 12.—Spreading rails this morning caused the wreck of three cars of the New York and Florida special of the Atlantic Coast Line, 34 miles north of Savannah, near Ridgeland, S. C., on its first trip south. A number of persons were injured, and one, Flagman J. W Mosely, of Salters, S. C., may die.

The rails spread because section hands were placing in new ties. The section men failed to flag the train as they should have done. The engine and three cars, strange to say, passed over the dangerous place safely, but the rear three cars, which were coaches and baggage car—the train coming into Savannah from Charleston reversed—failed to cross.

They were thrown upon their sides down a 3-foot embankment, where the occupants were imprisoned for half an hour while, with axes, the uninjured trainmen and male passengers made openings for their exit.

HIGH WAGES ON THE CANAL.

Steam Shovel and Dredge Union Fixes Scale.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—At the annual meeting of the association of Union and Steam Shovel and Dredgemen today a wage scale for Panama canal workmen who ar emembers of the union was decided at follows.

Engineers, $250; cranemen, $200; firemen, $100 per month.

Transportation to and from Panama an full time when sick, eight hours to constitute a day's work, time and one-half for overtime, double time for Sundays, working days of the month to constitute a month's work; should death occur or a man be totally disabled, transporation back to be United States to be at the expense of the government or company employing the men. After a man has given satisfaction for eight months he is to be entitled to a leave of absence under full pay for six weeks and to be furnished special railroad rates for his family and self.

Gems Valued at $5,000 Stolen.

New York, Jan. 12.—A general alarm for jewels valued at more than $5,000 stolen last Saturday from the home of Mrs. Marino G. Paoli, the contractor who is macadamizing the roads of Cuba, was sent out by the police Tuesday. The robery was committed while the family was at dinner, between 6:30 and 7:45 p. m. The thief entered the house with a skeleton key and the manner is similar to that of several recent robberies in the section. The jewels consisted of six diamond rings, two turquois rings, a gold watch and chain, and Mrs. Paoli's wedding ring.

BOILER EXPLODES; TWO MEN KILLED

Locomotive Attached To Fast Express Blows Up.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION UNKNOWN

Train Was Standing Still at a Station Aside from Wrecking of the Engine, None of the Other Equipment Was Damaged.

Clevelaand, O., Jan. 12.—The boiler of a locomotive attached to the eastbound fast express on the Erie blew up while standing at the Cresto Ohio station today, killing the engineer and fireman instantly, and badly injuring another motorman, who was riding in the engine cab.

The dead:

Frederick Keller, engineer, Galion, Ohio.

Fireman Hallick, Galion, Ohio.

The injured:

Joseph Newman, Elmira, N. Y., will probably die.

The cause of the explosion is not known. The train carried express cars only. Aside from the engine, which was completely demolished, none of the equipment was damaged. Traffic was blocked for four hours following the accident.

ALL INSURANCE WITHDRAWN.

Where Cotton Has Been Burned No Insurance Can Be Had.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 12.—Insurance companies which have placed policies on cotton in warehouses throughout the south are stated to have canceled all policies on cotton in districts where the stable has been burned, even in the smallest quantities. In districts where the farmers have met and discussed the burning of cotton as a means of raising prices, insurance has been raised about 50 per cent.

It is said that there is an agreement among insurance companies, or at least an understanding to the effect that all of the companies will act in the matter in the same manner.

This action has effectually stopped the burning of cotton in so far as the country merchants and country bankers can have any influence.

Butlers and Valets to Organize.

New York, Jan. 12.—Efforts are being made to organize a union of butlers, valets and second men employed in New York's homes of wealth. It is stated that these statuesque gentlemen, while not exactly dissatisfied with their jobs are taking drastic but secret measures to safeguard their professional dignity. There are about 5,000 men in the city eligible to membership. It is proposed by the promoters to furnish legal aid for members, build a club house and establish an employment bureau in which the characters of would-be employers will be carefully scrutinized.

Four Killed by Explosion.

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 12.—News of the death of three men and a boy as the result of a boiler explosion a few days ago in a remote section of Ashe county, N. C., has been received here. The boiler was used to operate a cotton ginning outfit on the farm of T. N. Blevins, at Blevins' postoffice. Wiley Fowler, Thomas Bleaman and John Kelly were instantly killed by the force of the explosion, and a young son of Mr. Blevins received injuries from which he has since died.

His Shortage Was Made Good.

Waycross, Ga., Jan. 12.—Gilbert Meeks, former postmaster at Nicholls, who disappeared about a week ago, and who was found to be $2,300 short in his accounts, has returned home and his shortage has been adjusted by his bondsmen. Abe Findley, former postmaster at Douglas and Dr. Johnson, have just completed rechecking Meeks' accounts and claim that he was only short $900. The full sum of $2,300 has been paid over to the government by his bondsmen and another inspector has been wired for to check Meeks' accounts again.

WOMAN INSPIRES CREW.

Wife of Captain Stood by Her Husband In Hurricane.

New York, Jan. 12.—The Atlantic Transport liner Minnehahn, which arrived from London yesterday, had among its passengers Captain W. Nelson, his wife and the crew of five men that were rescued from the Maine schooner, W. R. Chester, by the British steamer Anglo-Chilian.

The W. B. Chester left St. Martin's, N. B., for Barbadoes. During the hurricane of Dec. 13 the schooner nearly foundered. When the Anglo-Chilian sighted the vessel the crew had given up all hope of saving their lives. The deck was flush with water, and every sail and rudder were gone.

During the storm Mrs. Nelson won the hearts of the crew by her courage and skill. She labored unceasingly, serving the men with liquor and coffee and taking her place at the pump whenever one dropped exhausted. The plucky woman had learned the art of holding a boat to its course, and frequently relieved her husband at the wheel.

Neither the captain, Mrs. Nelson nor any of the crew was able to save anything from the wreck.

SAILORS GO ON A STRIKE.

Refused to Help Sinking Vessel Unless Paid Extra Money.

San Francisco, Jan. 12.—A strike of sailors when the vessel on which they were employed was imminent danger of destruction was a novel phase of the labor question brought to the light during the investigation into the disaster of the steamer Lamke.

When it appeared as though she was about to go to pieces Captain John W. Carlson, master of the Lamke ordered the crew to jettison some of the deck load in order to right the vessel. To his astonishment and indignation the sailors went on a strike. They refused to lift a hand unless the captain would agree to pay them overtime. Captain Carlson by the exercise of diplomacy and cajolery succeeded in inducing them to save the vessel and to end the strike.

The crew were all foreigners and there was not an American among them.

Fighting Divorce Law.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 12.—It is already evident that questions relative to divorce are going to cut a great figure in the legislature now in session. There is a powerful pressure for an act repealing every divorce law now on the statutes. These laws have opened the door so that there was last year about one divorce to each eight marriages. Most of the laws are special ones, designed to meet particular cases, and some have been lobied through legislatures, but, of course, had to be general, and as numbers of persons would avail themselves of them. This has been the prime cause of trouble. Interviews held with some prominent men of the legislature show how hard the fight will be on the divorce law.

Locating Submarine Mines.

San Francisco, Jan. 12.—The work of locating prisons at the entrance to the harbor for submarine mines has been commenced. It has been decided to establish a switchboard at Point Bonita and from there a cable around the bar and south Beach. The location of the second switchboard has not been decided, but it will be at either the Presidio or the Cliff house.

Three Men Washed Overboard.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Jan. 12.—Captain McLeod, of the 4-masted coal laden schooner Alice M. Colburn, of Bath, Me., which is anchored off Nobska, in Vineyard sound, reported that three of his crew were washed overboard and drowned on Jan. 3, when the schooner was 25 miles southeast of the highlands of Navesink. A fourth sailor was injured.

Sixteen Convicts Killed.

San Francisco, Jan. 12.—News from Manila received today tells of an attempt of 500 convicts at Bilibid prison to break jail on Dec. 7. Sixteen of the prisoners were killed and forty wounded. Six of the wounded are not expected live and twenty-six others are in a critical condition.

ANNUAL MEETING OF COMMISSION MEN

All Big Cities Represented At Now Orleans Session.

WELCOME ADDRESS BY MAYOR

The President's Annual Address Suggests a Very Vigorous Fight on the Private Car Lines—President Roosevelt Is Highly Praised.

New Orleans, Jan. 12.—The thirteenth annual convention of the National League of Commission Merchants began here today with delegates and their families aggregating between six and seven hundred people. There are large delegations here from Chicago, New York, Boston, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Pittsburg, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Detroit and other cities.

The convention was opened with prayer by Rev. W. T. Palmer, of New Orleans. Mayor Behrman cordially welcomed the visitors and D. W. Longfellow, of Minneapolis, responded.

President Charles B. Ayers, in his annual report discussed very vigorously the question of private car lines. He said:

"We have instituted a fight against one of the most nurelenting and unscrupulous monopolies of the age; a coroporation that terrorizes the railroads of our land and even goes so far as to say to the interstate commerce commission, 'Keep your hands off us; you have no right to interfere no matter what our transgressions may be; we are outside the jurisdiction of any court or commission; we are a private car line, and will continue to charge the limit we think the public will stand, and if, perchance, you are not satisfied to pay our toll for the privilege of living, you can let your goods rot, as you must do business with us or quit.'

"This is what the Armour exclusive contracts mean. The agitation of this matter and the publicity the press of the land has given to the investigation has startled the country and set thinking men to ponder over the conditions as they have been exposed."

Mr. Ayers said the sympathy of the interstate commerce commission was with commission merchants but the commission doubted their power to give relief.

"They can help us if they will," said Mr. Ayers, "and they should be compelled to do so; sufficient pressure should be brought to bear on the commission to convince them that we are thoroughly in earnest, and it is our intention to fight for right until it prevails. If necessary to accomplish this, we must call to our aid the growers of farm products everywhere."

Mr. Ayers highly extolled President Roosevelt.

"In him," he said, "we have a man with whom we can, with confidence, rest our cause, believing that sooner or later he will find the proper means to carry out that policy of reform which was so clearly outlined in his message."

Democrat Likes Roosevelt.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 12.—When the Virginia electoral college met and cast its vote for Parker and Davis, State Senator W. P. Barksdale, an elector-at-large, declared if he were free he would not vote for Parker. "If is was safe Democracy," he said "then it was insane. Eighty thousand people went to the polls and voted while 120,000 resented the insult and management of the campaign by the men who, four years ago, turned their faces on Bryan."

New Circuit Unconstitutional.

Montgomery, Ala., an. 12.—The supreme court has rendered a reciaion declaring the act creating the 15th judicial circuit unconstitutional. No decision was rendered in the case of the fourteenth circuit. By this decision the Montgomery circuit court reverts to the second circuit and Chilton, Autauga and Elmore go to the fifth circuit. Judge T. Scott Sayre of the 15th circuit, is without office.

NEW ROAD WORK WILL BEGIN SOON

Director Martin Dodge Interested in Welfare of Florida.

AS REGARDS THE ROADS

He Feels That the State is Greatly in Need of Good Highways, and for That Reason Sent the Road Machinery to Experiment Here.

Dr. T. F. Thomas, erstwhile member of the Board of County Commissioners and chairman of that board, has returned from Jacksonville, where he has been on business.

While in Jacksonville Dr. Thomas had the pleasure of meeting again his old-time friend, Hon. Martin Dodge of Washington, director of road inquiry in the United States government. Mr. Dodge is known to many in this section, having visited this city, by special invitation, on the occasion of a big good roads barbecue about four years ago, when the question of good roads was born and first agitated in this county. At that time Mr. Dodge made an address, along with Hon. Robt W. Davis and others. He told the people at that time that he believed, from the samples which had been gathered at random throughout the State, that Alachua county possessed the finest and most durable road building material not only in Florida, but in the South, and that if it was properly worked the finest roads in the world would be the result. His remarks at that time proved true, since Expert Spoon of the government department sent several samples recently to Washington, and an analysis showed that the material was equal to the best in the country for the purpose.

"I have always been interested in good roads in the South, and especially in Florida," remarked Director Dodge to Dr. Thomas. "I have been more particularly interested in Florida, and in the eastern and southern portions of the State, because as a rule the roads are very sandy, and I realized that as soon as we could get the people interested in hard roads the quicker they would have them built.

"That is my object for sending this government road machinery to Florida. There is no State in the Union which needs it worse, and no State in the Union which deserves better roads. The vast trucking and farming and horticultural interests of Florida, which are becoming more and more important every year, demand roads upon which the grower may with safety and convenience transport his products, and the sooner they learn this the better."

Dr. Thomas states that the road machinery is expected here about the 16th, when work on the mile of object-lesson road will begin at once. Either Expert Dodge, a brother of Director Dodge, or Expert Spoon, will be here and superintend the work.

PALMETTO LEGISLATURE MEETS

New Officers Are Elected and Both Branches Get to Work.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 12.—There is nothing striking so far in the meeting of the new legislature. Both branches of which convened at noon Tuesday.

At 1 o'clock both houses engaged in the ceremony of swearing in new members which takes much time.

The senate organized with Altamont Moses as temporary chairman, who has done nothing so far but swear in new members.

M. L. Smith was re-elected speaker of the house without opposition.

The officers of the house were aso re-elected without opposition.

After the election the governor was informed that the house was fully organized. The members drew lots for seats.

Frenchmen Sails for Morocco.

New York, Jan. 12.—Members of the French diplomatic mission to Fez will embark this afternoon on a cruiser for LaRache, according to a Herald dispatch from Tangier. The Moorish government is taking the necessary precautions to safeguard the overland road which is to be followed by the mission. The native cavalry is awaiting the mission at LaRache and a supplementary escort of 700 horsemen will join them at a point half way between LaRache and Fez. Reports from Fez are to the effect that by the expressed desire of the sultan, the French minister will be accorded a cordial and elaborate reception.

Sickening Shivering Fits

Of ague and malaria can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure, tonic medicine; of especial benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is much to be preferred to quinine, having none of this drug's bad after effects. E. S. Mundy of Henrietta, Tex., writes: "My brother was very low with malaria fever and jaundice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. At all druggists. Price 50c, guaranteed.

No Longer on the Map.

"What makes you so late?" asked Tim's father, who in the boy's absence had had to see to the evening chores himself.

"Teacher kept me in."

"What for?"

"'Cause I couldn't find Moscow on the map."

"Couldn't find Moscow? And I'd like to know who could, then! Why, I remember hearing tell of Moscow being burned when I was a boy! It's an outrage to put such nonsensical questions to children what's there to learn something useful. I'll look into that and let yer teacher know I ain't been elected on the school board for nothing!"—London Globe.

Ingenious.

"Jimmy," said the teacher after reading the youngster's "note from his father" excusing Jimmy's absence from school the day before, "it seems to me your father's writing is very much like yours."

"Yes," replied Jimmy, unabashed, "father ain't had no eluction, and I'm learnin' him."

Taking Care of the Pennies.

AFFECTION IN JAPAN.

It Is Deep and Lasting, but, as a Rule, Not Outspoken.

Public demonstration of affection is most repugnant to the good taste of the Japanese, and it is the absence of this which is so generally mistaken for a lack of genuine feeling. I recall one man who was so devoted to his mother (though I doubt whether he could ever have been said to have "talked about" her) that when she died, while he was abroad, his depression was so profound that my husband watched him with anxiety lest he should commit suicide. The stoical training may render more unsympathetic a coarse nature, but repression to the refined soul brings an exquisite capacity for pain scarcely conceivable by those who are free to give utterance to every emotion.

Another man said to me, "I rarely speak of my mother, for a foreigner does not understand that a Japanese mother may be just as dear to her son as his to him and by the Japanese it is not expected that one should utter one's deepest feeling." That same son fainted with grief when his mother died and when consciousness returned rose to make light of a "little dizziness," without reference to its cause. To this day, whenever he goes from home, he carries with him his mother's letters, mounted on a beautiful roll of ivory and brocade, and on the anniversary of her passing beyond his mortal ken quietly devotes a portion of the day to meditation and special thought of her. Even to his wife, despite the closest bond of love, he says not, "This is the day of my mother's death."—Outlook.

CRUSTY CARLYLE.

An Anecdote Which Illustrates His Disagreeable Disposition.

Carlyle suffered from dyspepsia and disappointment. He was therefore neither oversympathetic in intercourse with his friends nor fair in his estimates of other writers.

Though he personally liked Tennyson, he spoke with impatience of his "cobbling his odes," dismissed Jane Austen's novels as "dish washings," Hallam, the historian, as "dry as dust" and Goldsmith as an "Irish blackguard."

Even the writers of editorials in the press were saluted with this hard saying: "What are these fellows doing? They only serve to cancel one another." A characteristic anecdote illustrates his cruel disposition, which provoked him to inflict pain even on a friend.

An artist who frequented Carlyle's house painted a picture of him in his dressing gown smoking a pipe by the fireside and Mrs. Carlyle in an armchair sitting opposite him. The picture was hung at one of the Royal academy's exhibitions and, though not a striking work of art, was purchased by Lord Ashburton, Carlyle's friend, for £500.

The delighted artist hurried off to the Carlyles, expecting congratulations on the sale and some manifestation of pleasure on their part at having such a value set on a picture of themselves and their domestic interior. He delivered his glad tidings, but all the response he received from Carlyle was:

"Well, in my opinion, £500 was just £495 too much."

When to Exercise.

When to exercise is an important consideration. If the morning only is available the exercise should be light. Particularly is this the case if one is engaged in any work. The supply of energy must not be drawn from at the beginning of the day. The afternoon is perhaps the best time for exercise, when one has gained strength from the absorption of the morning and noon meals. Those who exercise vigorously at night should eat a midday dinner. Exercise should always precede bathing and not, as a rule, follow it. In this respect the ancient Greeks showed great wisdom. Exercise and bathing they called the two pillars of strength. Exercise was Hercules and bathing Apollo. Both were regarded with equal importance, and neither was complete without the other.

A Grim Tragedy

Is daily enacted in thousands of homes, as death claims, in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley of Oaklandon, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c and $1.00 by all druggists. Trial bottles free.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

assed by J. J. Finley Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

he memory of our departed hero:—eneral Jesse Johnson Finley died Lake City, Fla., November 6, 1904, the ninety-second year of his age. is mortal remains were laid to rest in vergreen Cemetery, in our own city of Gainesville, November 7, under the direction of the J. J. Finley Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, amid demonstrations of the profoundest sorrow and reverence of all our people.

Upright lawyer, pure judge, brave soldier, patriotic citizen, able statesman, and above all devout Christian, he exemplified all the virtues of a noble manhood in all the relations of life. Adopted citizen of Florida, to whose service he devoted fifty-eight years of his long life, in the duties of the battlefield, forum and halls of legislation, he bore worthily the palm of one of her most distinguished sons.

Hero of two wars, serving faithfully in the ranks, and rising by merit and deeds to places of command, unsheathing his sword only for the protection of the homes of his people in the Seminole War, and for the defense alone of the rights and liberties of his sovereign commonwealth in the war for Southern independence, he was the soldier without stain or reproach. Laying aside the judicial ermine in 1862 to enter the Confederate service as a private, and finally attaining by martial ability and conspicuous courage to the rank of brigadier-general, adding glory to the banner of the Southern Cross on the battlefields of Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee, his native State, he has reared his own enduring monument, in the affection, gratitude and sorrow of all who love the Lost Cause.

We, the members of the Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy named in honor of our departed hero, express and put on record our ardent admiration of the character, public services and life of General Jesse Johnson Finley. We give devout thanks to God that he was vouchsafed to be a blessing to his people for so many years, adorning the nobility of true manhood, and the graces of the Christian religion in his person, deeds and relations, to the very end of a life extending far beyond the years alloted to most of mankind; with deep emotion we bring to this life, lived so nobly, and now ended so honorably and peacefully, the tribute of our "Well done, good and faithful."

One by one, the heroes and veterans of the Confederacy are passing from the scenes of their glorious struggles, making more and more sacred and abiding the coronet of sorrow and disappointment which crowns the Lost Cause. Soon, very soon, naught but tattered and faded banners, and the graves and shafts of heroes will be left of all the glory of that mighty endeavor. And yet history will be the arbiter of justice and "the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth," and "doeth all things well."

J. J. FINLEY CHAPTER.

Pleasant and Most Effective.

T. J. Chambers, Editor Vindicator, Liberty, Texas, writes Dec. 25, 1902: "With pleasure and unsolicited by you, I bear testimony to the curative power of Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I have used it in my family and can cheerfully affirm it is the most effective and pleasantest remedy for coughs and colds I have ever used." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The February "Smart Set."

Readers of The Smart Set have learned to look upon the complete novel that appears in each issue of that magazine as the biggest event of the month in fiction; but even the most enthusiastic reader will be happily surprised by the story in the February number. Beyond a doubt "The Eavesdroppers," by Arthur Stringer, will prove one of the sensations of the year. The story deals with the careers of two daring criminals—a man and a woman—whose astonishing adventures the reader follows with breathless interest. From the very opening sentence the tale becomes one of rapid and exciting incident, and, moreover, it is written with that literary distinction which always characterizes Mr. Stringer's work. Different as "The Eavesdroppers" is from such fiction as "In the Bishop's Carriage" and "Esther," it combines all the interest of those stories with a movement and intensity entirely its own. It is a notable achievement for the author, and will prove a successful novelette in The Smart Set's long list of successful stories.

Of the sixteen short stories in this number each is so excellent in its own way that it is almost impossible to make a selection of any one as the best. Carolyn Wells' "The Duty of the Beast" is a tale almost equal to the finest work Edith Wharton has wrote. Oliver's "The God of Our Fathers" contains a thrill for the lovers of a... it is startling and dramatic in fiction. Vincent Harper's "Stuff of Dreams" is an exquisite idyll of the South Seas. Ethel Sigsbee Small's "Makers at Fame" is one of the best examples in the field of child stories for grown-ups. Elliot Flower's "A Pass to Paradise" is delightful in its mingled humor and romance, while Margery William's "The House by the Way" is a beautifully told tale. Besides these stories there are others of equal merit by Catharine Matthews, Elizabeth Sears, Guy Bolton, Helen Vacarsco and Tom Masson.

The essay in this issue is by the noted dramatic and music critic, James Huneker, and will cause wide comment. Mr. Huneker has written of "Ibsen the Individualist," and has many important and interesting things to say both of the personality and the work of the great Norwegian dramatist.

The poetry of this issue is of more than usual value, and is contributed by Florence Wilkinson, Joakin Miller, Dora Reed Goodale, Madeline Bridges, Clinton Dangerfield, John Arbuthnott, Richard Kirk, Leah Durand and Clinton Scollard.

Altogether the February Smart Set is a splendid example of what a modern magazine should be.

Wounds

and sores of any kind, caused by any kind of accident, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, sprains, etc., are best treated by the immediate application of

HAMLINS

WIZARD OIL

This great, soothing, curative remedy relieves pain, reduces swelling and inflammation, and heals up all open wounds and sores. It is the one perfect, modern dressing, or treatment, for a wound. Its quick use will positively prevent blood poisoning. Always keep it at hand.

Says Mrs. Jessie Farris, of Elizabeth, Ky.: "My little boy was badly burned on both legs, which were so drawn out of shape that he could not even crawl. I tried many remedies without relief, but finally Hamlins Wizard Oil made a perfect cure, and he can now walk and run. We thought we should have to amputate both his legs, and feel that Hamlins Wizard Oil saved his life." Price 50c and $1.00.

ALL DRUGGISTS.

Spoiled Her Beauty

Harriet Howard of 209 W. 35th St., New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had salt rheum, or eczema, for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. Twenty-five cents at all druggists.

Coal Strike Spreading.

Cologne, Germany, Jan. 12.—The strike of coal miners has spread. A portion of all the diggers in 17 additional mines did not go to work this morning. The number idle is about 35,000, or one-eighth of the total. Divisions exist among the miners, minorities disapproving of a strike and refusing to quit work, so that the proprietors of some of the striking mines continue to work them on part time.

Big Fire Near St. Louis.

St. Louis, Jan. 12.—The limestone plant of the St. Louis Plate Glass Co., at Valley Park, 20 miles west of this city, was partially destroyed by fire today entailing a loss estimated at $250,000. Between 350 and 500 employes will be out of employment until the plant can be rebuilt. The fire started near the furnaces, and after a fight of several hours the fire department of the company got the fire under control.

Fight for Nearly a Million.

New York, Jan. 12.—The final stage in the struggle for possession of nearly threequarters of a million dollars between John R. Platt, an aged millionair, and Hannah Elias, a negress who he charges wrongfully obtained the money from him, was scheduled to begin before Justice Bischoff in the supreme court today. In this suit it was expected that the whole amazing story of the affair which attracted the attention of the entire country when the secret of Platt's relations with the woman were revealed by the filing of his suit last summer, would be brought out.

Boy Dies from Drinking Whisky.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 12.—A special from Ripley, Miss., says that Joe Calvary, a 12-year-old boy of the northern part of Tippah county, is dead from the excessive drinking of whisky. It is said some boys had either given him the liquor or left it where he could get it, and on account of his youth did not realize the danger of it. He was soon thrown into convulsions, and lived only a few hours. The grand jury, now in session, will probably investigate the matter.

Eight-Hour Day for Employes.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Representative Maun, of Illinois, has introduced a bill in the house restricting the hours of labor of government employes to eight hours a day. The bill is as follows: "That Section 3709 of the Revised Statutes be amended so as to read: Eight consecutive hours shall constitute a day's work for all clerks in postoffices and laborers, workmen and mechanics who may be employed by or on behalf of the government of the United States."

Cured Lumbago.

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another; then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former soldiers." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The Baboon's Nine Lives.

When baboons once take to a mealie field they will not leave it till they have eaten every cob. When they depart every evening for home they have filled their stomachs, their cheek pouches and their arms! You cannot poison these pests, for fifteen grains of pure strychnine in a banana has failed to kill one. Only shooting with a rifle will do, and no human army was ever cleverer in setting sentries. Even at nighttime a large force of hunters has often been defied in its attempts to surround the rocky stronghold of Cynocephalus porcarius. Even dogs sent against the baboons fall before creatures which have hands with which to seize their enemies before biting them. Let the stay at home farmer congratulate himself on possessing merely rooks, pigeons, rats and sparrows!—Country Gentleman.

Hornets as Fly Killers.

Hornets, or "white faced wasps," have no evil traits or obnoxious features. It is true that they will sometimes sting, but this is only when they are attacked in their own homes, or think their young are in danger. The great value of these insects is that they live entirely upon insects, mostly flies, and, in fact, when they are near dwellings their food is generally the common horsefly. They are nature's greatest factors in reducing this serious pest. It is well known that flies carry disease germs, such as those of typhoid fever, and it can thus be seen that hornets have a decidedly sanitary effect as a result of their desirable insectivorous habits.—Field and Stream.

A Second Offense.

The tramp arrested for vagrancy rarely displays any humor, but a New York paper mentions one whose mild waggishness enlivened his own trial.

After the judge had looked the man over he said musingly, "I seem to know your face."

"Yes," the tramp agreed pleasantly; "we were boys together."

"Nonsense!" said the judge, frowning.

"But we were," the tramp said with mild insistence. "We're about the same age. We must 'a' been boys together."

Peculiar Fact and Superstition.

In Painswick churchyard (between Stroud and Gloucester, in Gloucestershire, England, there are ninety-nine yew trees. Although the hundredth has been planted many times, it is a peculiar fact that it always dies. A local superstition says that "when the hundredth tree lives after it has been planted the world will come to an end."

NEW ROAD WORK WILL BEGIN SOON

Director Martin Dodge Interested in Welfare of Florida.

AS REGARDS THE ROADS

He Feels That the State is Greatly in Need of Good Highways, and for That Reason Sent the Road Machinery to Experiment Here.

Dr. T. F. Thomas, erstwhile member of the Board of County Commissioners and chairman of that board, has returned from Jacksonville, where he has been on business.

While in Jacksonville Dr. Thomas had the pleasure of meeting again his old-time friend, Hon. Martin Dodge of Washington, director of road inquiry in the United States government. Mr. Dodge is known to many in this section, having visited this city, by special invitation, on the occasion of a big good roads barbecue about four years ago, when the question of good roads was born and first agitated in this county. At that time Mr. Dodge made an address, along with Hon. Robt W. Davis and others. He told the people at that time that he believed, from the samples which had been gathered at random throughout the State, that Alachua county possessed the finest and most durable road building material not only in Florida, but in the South, and that if it was properly worked the finest roads in the world would be the result. His remarks at that time proved true, since Expert Spoon of the government department sent several samples recently to Washington, and an analysis showed that the material was equal to the best in the country for the purpose.

"I have always been interested in good roads in the South, and especially in Florida," remarked Director Dodge to Dr. Thomas. "I have been more particularly interested in Florida, and in the eastern and southern portions of the State, because as a rule the roads are very sandy, and I realized that as soon as we could get the people interested in hard roads the quicker they would have them built.

"That is my object for sending this government road machinery to Florida. There is no State in the Union which needs it worse, and no State in the Union which deserves better roads. The vast trucking and farming and horticultural interests of Florida, which are becoming more and more important every year, demand roads upon which the grower may with safety and convenience transport his products, and the sooner they learn this the better."

Dr. Thomas states that the road machinery is expected here about the 16th, when work on the mile of object-lesson road will begin at once. Either Expert Dodge, a brother of Director Dodge, or Expert Spoon, will be here and superintend the work.

PALMETTO LEGISLATURE MEETS

New Officers Are Elected and Both Branches Get to Work.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 12.—There is nothing striking so far in the meeting of the new legislature. Both branches of which convened at noon Tuesday.

At 1 o'clock both houses engaged in the ceremony of swearing in new members which takes much time.

The senate organized with Altamont Moses as temporary chairman, who has done nothing so far but swear in new members.

M. L. Smith was re-elected speaker of the house without opposition.

The officers of the house were aso re-elected without opposition.

After the election the governor was informed that the house was fully organized. The members drew lots for seats.

Frenchmen Sails for Morocco.

New York, Jan. 12.—Members of the French diplomatic mission to Fez will embark this afternoon on a cruiser for LaRache, according to a Herald dispatch from Tangier. The Moorish government is taking the necessary precautions to safeguard the overland road which is to be followed by the mission. The native cavalry is awaiting the mission at LaRache and a supplementary escort of 700 horsemen will join them at a point half way between LaRache and Fez. Reports from Fez are to the effect that by the expressed desire of the sultan, the French minister will be accorded a cordial and elaborate reception.

Mundy of Henrietta, Tex., writes: "My brother was very low with malaria fever and jaundice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. At all druggists. Price 50c, guaranteed.

No Longer on the Map.

"What makes you so late?" asked Tim's father, who in the boy's absence had had to see to the evening chores himself.

"Teacher kept me in."

"What for?"

"'Cause I couldn't find Moscow on the map."

"Couldn't find Moscow? And I'd like to know who could, then! Why, I remember hearing tell of Moscow being burned when I was a boy! It's an outrage to put such nonsensical questions to children what's there to learn something useful. I'll look into that and let yer teacher know I ain't been elected on the school board for nothing!"—London Globe.

Ingenious.

"Jimmy," said the teacher after reading the youngster's "note from his father" excusing Jimmy's absence from school the day before, "it seems to me your father's writing is very much like yours."

"Yes," replied Jimmy, unabashed, "father ain't had no education, and I'm learnin' him."

AFFECTION IN JAPAN.

It Is Deep and Lasting, but, as a Rule, Not Outspoken.

Public demonstration of affection is most repugnant to the good taste of the Japanese, and it is the absence of this which is so generally mistaken for a lack of genuine feeling. I recall one man who was so devoted to his mother (though I doubt whether he could ever have been said to have "talked about" her) that when she died, while he was abroad, his depression was so profound that my husband watched him with anxiety lest he should commit suicide. The stoical training may render more unsympathetic a coarse nature, but repression to the refined soul brings an exquisite capacity for pain scarcely conceivable by those who are free to give utterance to every emotion.

Another man said to me, "I rarely speak of my mother, for a foreigner does not understand that a Japanese mother may be just as dear to her son as his to him and by the Japanese it is not expected that one should utter one's deepest feeling." That same son fainted with grief when his mother died and when consciousness returned rose to make light of a "little dizziness," without reference to its cause. To this day, whenever he goes from home, he carries with him his mother's letters, mounted on a beautiful roll of ivory and brocade, and on the anniversary of her passing beyond his mortal ken quietly devotes a portion of the day to meditation and special thought of her. Even to his wife, despite the closest bond of love, he says not, "This is the day of my mother's death."—Outlook.

CRUSTY CARLYLE.

An Anecdote Which Illustrates His Disagreeable Disposition.

Carlyle suffered from dyspepsia and disappointment. He was therefore neither oversympathetic in intercourse with his friends nor fair in his estimates of other writers.

Though he personally liked Tennyson, he spoke with impatience of his "cobbling his odes," dismissed Jane Austen's novels as "dish washings," Hallam, the historian, as "dry as dust" and Goldsmith as an "Irish blackguard."

Even the writers of editorials in the press were saluted with this hard saying: "What are these fellows doing? They only serve to cancel one another." A characteristic anecdote illustrates his cruel disposition, which provoked him to inflict pain even on a friend.

An artist who frequented Carlyle's house painted a picture of him in his dressing gown smoking a pipe by the fireside and Mrs. Carlyle in an armchair sitting opposite him. The picture was hung at one of the Royal academy's exhibitions and, though not a striking work of art, was purchased by Lord Ashburton, Carlyle's friend, for £500.

The delighted artist hurried off to the Carlyles, expecting congratulations on the sale and some manifestation of pleasure on their part at having such a value set on a picture of themselves and their domestic interior. He delivered his glad tidings, but all the response he received from Carlyle was:

"Well, in my opinion, £500 was just £495 too much."

When to Exercise.

When to exercise is an important consideration. If the morning only is available the exercise should be light. Particularly is this the case if one is engaged in any work. The supply of energy must not be drawn from at the beginning of the day. The afternoon is perhaps the best time for exercise, when one has gained strength from the absorption of the morning and noon meals. Those who exercise vigorously at night should eat a midday dinner. Exercise should always precede bathing and not, as a rule, follow it. In this respect the ancient Greeks showed great wisdom. Exercise and bathing they called the two pillars of strength. Exercise was Hercules and bathing Apollo. Both were regarded with equal importance, and neither was complete without the other.

A Grim Tragedy

Is daily enacted in thousands of homes, as death claims, in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley of Oaklandon, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Passed by J. J. Finley Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

In the memory of our departed hero:—

Confederal Jesse Johnson Finley died at Lake City, Fla., November 6, 1904, in the ninety-second year of his age. His mortal remains were laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery, in our own city of Gainesville, November 7, under the direction of the J. J. Finley Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, amid demonstrations of the profoundest sorrow and reverence of all our people.

Upright lawyer, pure judge, brave soldier, patriotic citizen, able statesman, and above all devout Christian, he exemplified all the virtues of a noble manhood in all the relations of life. Adopted citizen of Florida, to whose service he devoted fifty-eight years of his long life, in the duties of the battlefield, forum and halls of legislation, he bore worthily the palm of one of her most distinguished sons.

Hero of two wars, serving faithfully in the ranks, and rising by merit and deeds to places of command, unsheathing his sword only for the protection of the homes of his people in the Seminole War, and for the defense alone of the rights and liberties of his sovereign commonwealth in the war for Southern independence, he was the soldier without stain or reproach. Laying aside the judicial ermine in 1862 to enter the Confederate service as a private, and finally attaining by martial ability and conspicuous courage to the rank of brigadier-general, adding glory to the banner of the Southern Cross on the battlefields of Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee, his native State, he has reared his own enduring monument, in the affection, gratitude and sorrow of all who love the Lost Cause.

We, the members of the Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy named in honor of our departed hero, express and put on record our ardent admiration of the character, public services and life of General Jesse Johnson Finley. We give devout thanks to God that he was vouchsafed to be a blessing to his people for so many years, adorning the nobility of true manhood, and the graces of the Christian religion in his person, deeds and relations, to the very end of a life extending far beyond the years alloted to most of mankind; with deep emotion we bring to this life, lived so nobly, and now ended so honorably and peaceably, the tribute of our "Well done, good and faithful."

One by one, the heroes and veterans of the Confederacy are passing from the scenes of their glorious struggles, making more and more sacred and shedding the coronet of sorrow and disappointment which crowns the Lost Cause. Soon, very soon, naught but tattered and faded banners, and the scars and shafts of heroes will be left of all the glory of that mighty endeavor. And yet history will be the arbiter of justice and "the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth," and "doeth all things well."

J. J. FINLEY CHAPTER.

Pleasant and Most Effective.

T. J. Chambers, Editor Vindicator, Liberty, Texas, writes Dec. 25, 1902: "With pleasure and unsolicited by you, I bear testimony to the curative power of Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I have used it in my family and can cheerfully affirm it is the most effective and pleasantest remedy for coughs and colds I have ever used." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The February "Smart Set."

Readers of The Smart Set have learned to look upon the complete novel that appears in each issue of that magazine as the biggest event of the month in fiction; but even the most enthusiastic reader will be happily surprised by the story in the February number. Beyond a doubt "The Eavesdroppers," by Arthur Stringer, will prove one of the sensations of the year. The story deals with the careers of two daring criminals—a man and a woman—whose astonishing adventures the reader follows with breathless interest. From the very opening sentence the tale becomes one of rapid and exciting incident, and, moreover, it is written with that literary distinction which always characterizes Mr. Stringer's work. Different as "The Eavesdroppers" is from such fiction as "In the Bishop's Carriage" and "Ruffles," it combines all the interest of those stories with a movement and intensity entirely its own. It is a notable achievement for the author, and will prove a successful novelette in The Smart Set's long list of successful stories.

Of the sixteen short stories in this number each is so excellent in its own way that it is almost impossible to make a selection of any one as the best. Caroline Duer's "The Duty of the Beast" is a tale almost equal to the finest thing Edith Wharton has wrote. Owen Oliver's "The God of Our Fathers" contains a thrill for the lovers of all that is startling and dramatic in fiction. Vincent Harper's "Stuff o' Dreams" is an exquisite idyll of the South Seas. Ethel Sigsbee Small's "Tasters at Fame" is one of the best examples in the field of child stories for grown-ups. Elliot Flower's "A Pass to Paradise" is delightful in its mingled humor and romance, while Margery William's "The House by the Way" is a beautifully told tale. Besides these stories there are others of equal merit by Catharine Matthews, Elizabeth Sears, Guy Bolton, Helen Vacarsco and Tom Masson.

The essay in this issue is by the noted dramatic and music critic, James Huneker, and will cause wide comment. Mr. Huneker has written of "Ibsen the Individualist," and has many important and interesting things to say both of the personality and the work of the great Norwegian dramatist.

The poetry of this issue is of more than usual value, and is contributed by Florence Wilkinson, Joakin Miller, Dora Reed Goodale, Madeline Bridges, Clinton Dangerfield, John Arbuthnott, Richard Kirk, Leah Durand and Clinton Scollard.

Altogether the February Smart Set is a splendid example of what a modern magazine should be.

Wounds

and sores of any kind, caused by any kind of accident, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, sprains, etc., are best treated by the immediate application of

HAMLINS

WIZARD OIL

This great, soothing, curative remedy relieves pain, reduces swelling and inflammation, and heals up all open wounds and sores. It is the one perfect, modern dressing, or treatment, for a wound. Its quick use will positively prevent blood poisoning. Always keep it at hand.

Says Mrs. Jessie Farris, of Elizabeth, Ky.: "My little boy was badly burned on both legs, which were so drawn out of shape that he could not even crawl. I tried many remedies without relief, but finally Hamlins Wizard Oil made a perfect cure, and he can now walk and run. We thought we should have to amputate both his legs, and feel that Hamlins Wizard Oil saved his life." Price 50c and $1.00.

ALL DRUGGISTS.

Spoiled Her Beauty

Harriet Howard of 209 W. 35th St., New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had salt rheum, or eczema, for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. Twenty-five cents at all druggists.

Coal Strike Spreading.

Cologne, Germany, Jan. 12.—The strike of coal miners has spread. A portion of all the diggers in 17 additional mines did not go to work this morning. The number idle is about 35,000, or one-eighth of the total. Divisions exist among the miners, minorities disapproving of a strike and refusing to quit work, so that the proprietors of some of the striking mines continue to work them on part time.

Big Fire Near St. Louis.

St. Louis, Jan. 12.—The immense plant of the St. Louis Plate Glass Co., at Valley Park, 20 miles west of this city, was partially destroyed by fire today entailing a loss estimated at $250,000. Between 350 and 500 employes will be out of employment until the plant can be rebuilt. The fire started near the furnaces, and after a fight of several hours the fire department of the company got the fire under control.

Fight for Nearly a Million.

New York, Jan. 12.—The final stage in the struggle for possession of nearly threequarters of a million dollars between John R. Platt, an aged millionair, and Hannah Elias, a negress who he charges wrongfully obtained the money from him, was scheduled to begin before Justice Bischoff in the supreme court today. In this suit it was expected that the whole amazing story of the affair which attracted the attention of the entire country when the secret of Platt's relations with the woman were revealed by the filing of his suit last summer, would be brought out.

Boy Dies from Drinking Whisky.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 12.—A special from Ripley, Miss., says that Joe Calvary, a 12-year-old boy of the northern part of Tippah county, is dead from the excessive drinking of whisky. It is said some boys had either given him the liquor or left it where he could get it, and on account of his youth did not realize the danger of it. He was soon thrown into convulsions, and lived only a few hours. The grand jury, now in session, will probably investigate the matter.

Eight-Hour Day for Employes.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Representative Maun, of Illinois, has introduced a bill in the house restricting the hours of labor of government employes to eight hours a day. The bill is as follows: "That Section 3709 of the Revised Statutes be amended so as to read: Eight consecutive hours shall constitute a day's work for all clerks in postoffices and laborers workmen and mechanics who may be employed by or on behalf of the government of the United States."

Cured Lumbago.

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another; then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former soldiers." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The Baboon's Nine Lives.

When baboons once take to a mealie field they will not leave it till they have eaten every cob. When they depart every evening for home they have filled their stomachs, their cheek pouches and their arms! You cannot poison these pests, for fifteen grains of pure strychnine in a banana has failed to kill one. Only shooting with a rifle will do, and no human army was ever cleverer in setting sentries. Even at nighttime a large force of hunters has often been defied in its attempts to surround the rocky stronghold of Cynocephalus porcarius. Even dogs sent against the baboons fall before creatures which have hands with which to seize their enemies before biting them. Let the stay at home farmer congratulate himself on possessing merely rooks, pigeons, rats and sparrows!—Country Gentleman.

Hornets as Fly Killers.

Hornets, or "white faced wasps," have no evil traits or obnoxious features. It is true that they will sometimes sting, but this is only when they are attacked in their own homes, or think their young are in danger. The great value of these insects is that they live entirely upon insects, mostly flies, and, in fact, when they are near dwellings their food is generally the common housefly. They are nature's greatest factors in reducing this serious pest. It is well known that flies carry disease germs, such as those of typhoid fever, and it can thus be seen that hornets have a decidedly sanitary effect as a result of their desirable insectivorous habits.—Field and Stream.

A Second Offense.

The tramp arrested for vagrancy rarely displays any humor, but a New York paper mentions one whose mild waggishness enlivened his own trial.

After the judge had looked the man over he said musingly, "I seem to know your face."

"Yes," the tramp agreed pleasantly; "we were boys together."

"Nonsense!" said the judge, frowning.

"But we were," the tramp said, with mild insistence. "We're about the same age. We must 'a' been boys together."

Peculiar Fact and Superstition.

In Painswick churchyard (between Stroud and Gloucester), in Gloucestershire, England, there are ninety-nine yew trees. Although the hundredth has been planted many times, it is a peculiar fact that it always dies. A local superstition says that "when the hundredth tree lives after it has been planted the world will come to an end."

GAINESVILLE, FLA.

Governor Broward's inaugural address has been passed upon by the Florida editors and is universally endorsed and commended.

The friends of Dr. Dowie say he has proved himself to be a Christian by paying $4,000,000 in debts. But what we want to know is, how could any man get hold of $4,000,000 and still be a Christian?

The Sun gives the public all the county news and official proceedings of the school board and county commissioners. It also publishes the delinquent tax list and nearly all the legal sales. Take The Sun.

Now that the farmers are preparing their land for planting they should not neglect the corn, pindar and velvet bean crops. With plenty of hog and hominy they will be much better prepared to live at home.

Gainesville continues to grow at a rapid rate, there being more buildings in course of construction at present than at any time during the past five years. Every store room is occupied and not a residence is advertised for rent.

Editors Sherwood and Pound of The Live Oak Democrat are being sued for $10,000 libel by Editor Culpepper of The Perry Herald. Just as we expected. The Democrat has been showing too much evidence of prosperity lately.

Governor Jennings is being highly praised, and justly so, for his course as governor during the four years ending January 3rd, and the entire State press wish him as great success in the banking business as he made of the administration of the people's affairs.

The St. Augustine Evening Record has recently been enlarged and improved until it is now one of the best daily papers that comes to our exchange table. We congratulate Manager D. E. Thompson and Editor Harry L. Brown upon their successful efforts.

Henry M. Flagler's great hotels on the East Coast are now open and being rapidly filled with tourists and those seeking benefit from Florida's balmy climate. He has been the State's greatest benefactor, and to him, more than to any other agency, is due the great progress of the past twelve years.

Well posted Democrats already predict that William Jennings Bryan will head the Democratic national ticket in 1908. Well, he could scarcely make a worse showing than Parker did, and if wheat and corn should take as great a "slump" about the year 1908 as cotton did in 1904 the Nebraskan would be the man for the occasion.

Florida is noted for its excellent weekly newspapers which from week to week convey local happenings. But Major George E. Butler of The Lake Butler Star belongs to be crowned the king of local paragraphers of the weekly press. His paper never fails to contain a full page of live local news, written in brief but interesting style. The Major could get out an interesting newspaper in a village inhabited by only a mule and his driver.

OF INTEREST TO EX-CONFEDS.

There has been a general misunderstanding of the scope of the act of Congress proposing to pay ex-Confederates for horses and other property confiscated from them at the close of the war. The quartermaster-general, C. H. Humphrey, states in detail the manner in which claims are to be filed, no claims to be received later than April, 1906. The following regulations must be observed:

1. Each claimant must state his own claim under oath (the department furnishes no blank forms for the purpose) mailing it to the Quartermaster-General, United States Army, Washington, D. C.

2. In his affidavit he should state name, rank, company and the regiment in which he was serving at the time of the surrender, and by whom officered.

3. The date and place of surrender, and to whom surrendered.

4. That he was paroled at or after the surrender, naming the paroling officer, time and place. Written paroles, if in existence, should be filed with claims; otherwise, the sworn testimony of two credible persons (preferably soldiers) knowing the facts, must be submitted as proof.

5. That he was required to be mounted for the performance of his military duties, and that the property taken was his own and that it was being used in the Confederate service at the time of the surrender and was taken by United States troops, acting or presumably acting under orders, stating how, when and where (and by whom it is known) it was taken. State value of each horse or mule, saddle, bridle, blanket and side arms.

6. At least two credibe persons (soldiers preferred) must corroborate all the claimant's statements in essential particulars, stating how their knowledge thereof was obtained.

7. If the soldier be dead, his widow may make the claim. If both be dead, his child, or children jointly; or if no children survive the soldier, a parent may make the claim. Allowance for only one horse and equipment is made to a private soldier, and two horses, equipment and side arms to a commissioned officer.

8. All statements by the claimant and witnesses must be under oath. The credibility of each must be certified to by the official before whom they make the oath and his official seal must be affixed to each affidavit.

Only three months and Gainesville will be in the throes of a municipal election, and if current reports be true it will be one of the "warmest" contests the old town has experienced for several years. Just at this time, however, personal feelings should be buried and those candidates voted for who are calculated to best promote the material and spiritual welfare of the city. Great things are in store for our people with the proper men to guide city affairs, but unless care is exercised by the voters a grave mistake may be made.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

The pardoning board refused to grant the petition for the liberation of James Williams, who murdered Mark D. Bartelson at Miami about three years ago and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life. It is said that Governor Terrell of Georgia strongly requested the pardon. Williams is reported to be one of the most valuable convicts now leased, being a fine bookkeeper and accountant.

A few Florida newspapers advocate giving the Railroad Commission more power. The present law is ample for all purposes, as it permits the commission to do everything that could be delegated by additional statute. The commission cannot interfere with railroad charges on interstate commerce, and if discrimination by the corporations in carrying charges between points within the State is not corrected it is the fault of the commission and not of the law. We believe the commission has acted for what was deemed best for all interests, but we confess that its establishment has not redounded materially to the commercial interests of interior towns. Many believe that as much could be accomplished by statute fixing freight and passenger rates as can possibly be accomplished by the commission, and the expense of the latter thereby saved to the tax-payers. It is not likely, however, that the experiment will be tried in the near future.

It is now practically certain that Judge Swayne will be impeached. It is not at all certain, though, just how long a Republican Senate will be about impeaching a Republican judge. The select committee appointed by the House to draft the articles of impeachment has preferred twelve charges, including obtaining money undes false pretenses. Swayne is small in statue, but from all accounts he is a big rascal.

J. E. Low has sold The Green Cove Spring to H. M. Pride, an old and experienced newspaper man. While The Sun regrets to see Mr. Low retire from a work in which he has been so long engaged we welcome Mr. Pride to Florida journalism and trust that he will make The Spring the "Pride" of the State press.

It has been calculated that, taking the population of the whole world, there is one newspaper to every 82,600 persons. The United States support 12,500 newspapers, of which 2,000 are dailies, these being round figures. Germany has 5,500 journals of which 800 are daily.

RECEPTION TO DR. JONES

Will be Tendered by J. J. Finley Chapter at Home of Mrs. Broome.

Dr. J. Wm. Jones, the famous lecturer and Confederate veteran, who was chaplain on the staff of General Robert E. Lee, is expected in the city at noon today, and will this evening at the opera house deliver his famous lecture, "The Boys in Gray."

Dr. Jones will be honored this afternoon by a reception at the elegant home of Mrs. Geo. K. Broome, North Pleasant street, from 3 to 5 o'clock, to which all veterans, Daughters and G. A. R. veterans are cordially invited.

Dr. Jones is a magnificent Christian gentleman, full of enthusiasm and generosity. He is regarded as one of the finest lecturers on the platform today, and his labor is a labor of love, since he does not receive a cent for his services. The proceeds this evening will be divided equally between the J. J. Finley Chapter and Battle Abbey, and it is to be hoped that a good crowd will be present.

Killed by Black Hand.

Buffalo, Jan. 12.—Marie Dessanti, aged 24 years, was found dead by her husband in a room of the Terrace Park hotel. Her hands and feet were tied, and she appears to have been strangled. A few days ago she had informed neighbors that she had received a letter from the Black Hand Society demanding $200 under penalty of death. The woman had been reported to have had about $2,000, and it was said that she was to return to Italy shortly.

Killed Father with Brick.

Pontotoc, Miss., Jan. 12.—A tragedy in the northern part of this county yesterday afternoon resulted in the killing of Ben Eddington, a well known citizen of this county. While engaged with his two sons, Mal and Sid Eddington, one of the boys hurled a brick, the missile striking his father on the head, breaking his neck. Eddington is said to have been drinking and abusing his wife. The difficulty grew out of the effort of the boys to protect their mother. No arrests have yet been made.

What's In a Name.

"Intestinal indigestion" is the new name for a multitude of stomach troubles. It is the recognized cause of heart disease, kidney troubles, constipation, flatulency, inflammation of the bladder, neuralgia, headaches, dizziness, appendicitis and rheumatism. Green's August Flower goes right after intestinal indigestion and quickly clears it out of the intestinal tract, speedily curing any or all of the ailments mentioned. Trial bottle 25c. Big bottle, 75c. At W. M. Johnson's.

Has Deed to All Virginia.

New York, Jan. 12.—Robert Graver of No. 680 East One Hundred and Seventy-fifth street, says he has a 1742 deed which entitles him to all that vast tract of Virginia territory that was granted to Lord Fairfax by an English king, and he is preparing to get possession of it. He is about to enter into communication with the descendants of the maker of the deed and also with those who hold the property to which it refers. He inherited the deed.

Wife Murderer Pardoned.

Indianapolis, Jan. 12.—The last official act of retiring Governor Durbin was the unconditional parole of the Rev. William E. Hinshaw, whose wife Thirza Hinshaw, was murdered ten years ago tonight. Mr. Hinshaw, convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to life imprisonment, will be liberated tomorrow from the Michigan City prison.

The Psychology of Vanity.

A French scientist, M. Camille Mellinard, discusses in La Revue (Paris) the psychological aspects of vanity, which, he declares, is the desire for praise become all powerful. Vanity in the beginning, he declares, is more a caprice than a vice, but vices may arise out of it. He discusses vanity of dress, of manners and of intellect. To prevent the development of vanity, he says, we should begin very early with the child. In fact, it is we who make the child vain by the misuse of praise, comparisons with companions, too much admiration; also by raillery, which may cause the child much suffering and teach him to fear criticism. There is too much appeal to amour propre, and there are too many competitions and prizes which may stimulate energy, but require very prudent use. It would be better to compare the scholar with himself. To work to be the best need not be bad, but to work for the joy of working and learning is much better and less exciting. Finally, let us remember that the advantages we boast of have little value in themselves; all depends on the use we make of them. The only quality of which we can never be vain is justice.

Fate of the Three Men.

There were once three men who gave a great deal of thought to the problem of what to do the first of the year.

The first man announced that he had sworn off all his bad habits. Everybody said he always was a wild character, and it would be well to keep closer watch than ever on him, as now there was no telling when he would cut loose worse than ever.

The second man, seeking to profit by the experience of the first, declared that he had not sworn off because he had no bad habits to discard. The result was that everybody pronounced him a hardened wretch, who was insensible and indifferent to the duties of life.

The third man studied their cases and concluded that the best thing he could do would be to say nothing whatever. Whereupon everybody asserted that he was too calloused to reform and was not worthy of any respect at all.

This simply goes to show that, no matter how you guess, you will guess wrong.—Judge.

The Wedding Ring.

In France there is a peculiar significance in the ways in which the ring is held at the precise moment of the utterance of the fatal words of the marriage vow. If the bridegroom slips the ring at once over the second joint it is a sign that he gives of the sovereignty of his own house, but if as he repeats the words he merely holds it over the end of the finger, but does not let it slip down till afterward, it declares that he intends to remain master and protector.

Abroad the absence or presence of the wedding ring is much more noticed than in England. In Norway it is considered dishonorable for a man not to bear the sign that he is married. In modern Greece the husband wears a gold circlet, the wife a silver, a reminiscence of the ancient sun and moon worship, which still prevails in India.—London Madame.

In the reign of George III. hats were taxed. The least tax was threepence. Those above 12 shillings in value paid a tax of 2 shillings.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

TO FIND HUSBANDS.

Some Quaint Customs of the Young Women of Russia.

Russian girls frequently amuse themselves by attempting to discover what sort of husbands will eventually lead them to the altar. A favorite manner of doing this is by so called divination.

The girl who is tired of a single life sits in the mystic hours of the night between two large mirrors. On each side she places a candle and then eagerly watches until she can see twelve reflected lights. If the fates are propitious she ought also to discern the husband she desires portrayed in the glass before her.

Another method of divination is to have supper laid for two. If the young lady is in luck the apparition of the future husband will come and sit down beside her, but in order to secure success the girl must not divulge to any one her intention of thus attempting to dive into futurity.

There is a story told to the effect that the daughter of a rich farmer was in love with a young lieutenant, and he, suspecting that she would probably have supper laid for two, climbed the wall of the garden and, sitting down by her side, partook of the prepared banquet, the girl being under the impression that it was his apparition and not the real simon pure.

On leaving the room the officer forgot his sword, which he had unbuckled before he sat down to supper. The girl, finding the weapon after his departure, hid it in the cupboard as a memento of the visitor.

Eventually she married another suitor, and he, fancying that there was some rival who supplanted him in his wife's affection and one day discovering the sword, was confirmed in his suspicions and killed her in a fit of passion.

Sometimes the inquisitive husband seeker will take a candle, and, melting the wax, pour it on the snow, after which she strives to discern in the hardened substance the likeness of him she seeks.

A very favorite amusement when several girls are congregated under the same roof is to divine by the aid of a cock. Each girl, taking some corn, makes a small heap on the floor and there conceals a ring. The chanticleer is then introduced and is let loose beside the corn. Presently he begins to peck at the heaps of grain. At last one of the rings is exposed to view, when its owner, according to the popular belief, will outstrip her companions in the race for matrimony.—Cassell's Journal.

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L. L. D.,

Of Waverley, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough, and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." 25, 50c and $1.00. FATHER OF NINETEEN CHILDREN

Arrested Because He Didn't Send His Daughter to School.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Having too many children was the defense of Anton Hermann, who has been arraigned before Justice Prindeville charged with failing to send his daughter, Katie, 11 years old, to school. Hermann testified that he was the father of 19 children, six of whom are of school age.

"I am too poor to provide clothes and books to send all six children to school," he said. "I don't get much money in the lumber yard where I work. I have been married 34 years. Now I am living with my second wife. My first wife died many years ago."

It developed that Katie, the girl on whose account he had been forced into court, was born on a steamship.

Herman was fined $10, but payment was suspended on condition that Katie should be sent to school.

WILL PLANT LESS COTTON.

Alabama Farmers Are Signing Pledges to Reduce Acreage.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 12.—Reports from various sections of Alabama show that the farmers and others interested in cotton are meeting in mass convention in their respective counties and taking steps to reduce this year's acreage and also to hold the surplus cotton now on hand for higher prices.

The prevailing reduction in acreage proposed is from 20 ti 25 per cent. In numerous counties delegates have also been elected to the National Cotton convention to be held in New Orleans Jan. 24, when an effort will be made to make the concerted movement for cotton acreage reduction throughout the south binding.

Alabama farmers interested in the movement are signing pledges to cut down their acreage in cotton.

Crabs Hard and Soft.

The process of crabs shedding during the summer season is as follows: The crabs become fat; then they assume a bluish look on the back and yellow on underside. When in this condition if an outer shell be broken there will be found a skin similar to the inner skin of an egg covering the crab. In this stage the crab is known as a peeler. The next stage is when the outer shell begins to open, and the crab is then known as a buster. When the outer shell is stuffed, the crab is then a soft crab. If she has escaped from the cannibalistic male crabs, who pursue her during this period, she lies hidden in the grass in shoal water until the next tide, which hardens her shell considerably, and the crab is called a buckrum. Buckrums are the tough crabs sold as soft crabs, and when cooked the shell turns red, like that of a lobster, and is not desirable on account of its brittleness. In another tide the crabs become truly hard and go where they please without fear of being devoured by the male members.

One of Poe's Experiences.

Poe, one night during those last weeks he spent in Richmond, related this personal experience, adding that he would carry it with him to the grave.

"I was living in Philadelphia during the epidemic of the cholera there. All day I would pace the streets, seeing the dying and dead, until my heart was faint and sick within me. Late one evening, on coming home after one of these aimless wanderings, broken down and with a thousand pictures of suffering and death dancing hideously before my eyes, I lay upon the bed. In a moment I was asleep and dreamed that a black bird like a raven came into the room and perched over the door. I asked what it was. The bird replied:

"'I am the spirit of the cholera, and you are the cause of me!'

"I woke with a start, but the apparition was so real that it made an impression on me I shall never forget."—Lamp.

Origin of Grammar Schools.

"Grammar schools" are schools which were founded to teach grammar at a time when the word had a very different meaning from that which it bears at the present time.

Grammar is the science which investigates the laws of language and the art of using it correctly, and one would naturally imagine that a grammar school must necessarily be a school where the English language is taught, but it is not so.

In the middle ages, when the clergy were the only educated men, Latin was the language in which knowledge was preserved and handed down either orally or in writing, so "grammar came to mean the grammar of the Latin tongue and a 'grammar school' was an endowed school for teaching Latin (and afterward Greek) to poor scholars, to fit them for universities."

Tight Lacing and Great Men.

A correspondent says that the tight lacing periods of history have always been productive of the greatest geniuses, the loose dressing periods the reverse. Bacon, Shakespeare, Drake, Marlborough, Thackeray, Dickens, Scott—to mention only a few names—were born when chroniclers and fashion artists reveal to us the fact that "women were never satisfied till they could span their waists," and "while eighteen inches was the fashionable standard, many fashionable girls and women possessed waists fully two or three inches smaller."

But Thackeray said he would as lief marry a girl with a humped back as one with an eighteen inch waist.

Ancient Bankers.

Among the most valuable evidences of the life and customs of the people of Babylon and Nineveh 700 years B. C. were found, during the excavations at various times, veritable letters of credit, bills of exchange, with and without warranty, money obligations of all kinds, sight drafts made payable to indorser or bearer. These denote the existence at Babylon, 600 B. C., of a bank which must have done a considerable business and shows that it is not only in our day that capital is used to give impetus and keep alive industrial pursuits.

NEW TERSELY TOLD.

G. Frost, a 17-year-old boy, living at Brock, Ky., has been married at Nelson, to Miss Rebecca Geons, a girl of that place.

Austin, a negro, was in the Henrico circuit at Richmond sentenced to be hanged for criminal assault on Lillie Ross, a 9-year-old negro girl.

A gift of $100,000 to Tufts college at Medford, Mass., by Andrew Carnegie was announced at chapel today. The gift is for the erection of a college library.

Leroy Sawdry, a workman in a factory at Earlville, N. Y., was instantly killed this afternoon by a knife which flew from a machine he was operating, striking him in the head.

A fire that started today in Arkansas City, Kan., and which for a time threatened the business section of this city, destroyed the Colorado block, a four-story structure, causing considerable loss.

Rodman Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, Pa., has just placed $1,200,000 extra insurance on his life. He was previously insured for $2,000,000, so that his death will cost the insurance companies at least $3,200,000.

Fire today destroyed the Hedden Dry Goods company's building in New Albany, Ind. The effects of office holders and secret societies having rooms over the store, were lost. The loss is about $75,000, which is said to be well insured.

With a pistol and razor John Miller, a cook of Chicago, killed his wife and infant daughter, Annie, today, fatally wounded another daughter, Martha, 2½ years old, and cut his own throat. Jealousy is believed to have been the cause of the tragedy.

Alice Valentine Burke Tichenor, widow of the late James Frederick Tichenor, former president of the British Columbia Copper company and mother of Lady Cunard, is dead at her home in New York city. She was was 60 years old.

One of the largest buildings of the plant of Farr & Bailey company, at Camden, N. J., manufacturers of oilcloth and linoleum, which occupies an entire block in the southern section of this city, burned today. Loss is estimated at $175,000.

The board of aldermen of Boston by a vote of nine to three, passed the order recently adopted by the the common council, authorizing the city of Boston to acquire and maintain gas plants for the manufacture and distribution of gas and electricity for lighting purposes.

Old Time School Whipping.

Sir Sydney Waterlow, lord mayor of London, thus described to a London Express writer a "good, old fashioned thrashing" in school:

"My master at St. Saviour's grammar school, Southwark, at the foot of old London bridge, was a counterpart of the tyrant of Dotheboy's Hall.

"Finding that at the age of ten years I had not made much progress in the proper comprehension of the four concords in Latin, he determined to give me a good birching. He was a most practiced hand with the rod and was never satisfied with a birch less than four or five feet long, with plenty of small, sharp cones on it. He never used the same one twice.

"The fiat having gone forth, I was stripped to my bare back and made to kneel. The master then inflicted three strokes as hard as his strong arm enabled him to give, causing the blood to spurt all over my back. Many of the cones remained in my flesh for days."

The Editor's Gentleman.

The question always comes up: What is a gentleman? Some say he is a man with a silk hat, and others a man with a smooth tongue. But men connected with the newspaper trade have a canon of their own.

"Mr. Editor," said a patron one day, "how is it you never call on me to pay for your paper?"

"Oh," said the man of types, "we never ask a gentleman for money."

"Indeed!" the patron replied. "How do you manage to get along when they don't pay?"

"Why," said Mr. Editor, "after a certain time we conclude he is not a gentleman, and we ask him."—London Mail.

Old Forks.

A London jeweler has made a collection of ancient forks used in England which show some little known facts about the table manners of a few centuries ago. The forks, which are of solid silver, date from the sixteenth century. In many cases the designs in all this time have scarcely varied in any detail, and the forks look like those which might be bought today. The old forks were a great luxury in their time and were only used by the aristocracy.

If goodness were only a theory, it were a pity it should be lost to the world.—Hazlitt.

A GIRL'S NATURE.

Little Signs That, It Is Said, Reveal Phases of Character.

Much of a girl's nature is betrayed by the little act of brushing a speck off a man's coat. If she picks off the thread or imaginary bit of lint very carefully between the thumb and forefinger it is an indisputable sign that she is a woman of a very practical and executive character.

On the other hand, if a girl should brush the coat lapel of her fiance very softly and tenderly with the second and third finger of her hand in her endeavor to remove an invisible speck it is a sure sign that she is more sentimental than practical. The man who marries her will live in a continual atmosphere of romance and bad housekeeping.

There is still another type of girl who will brush the speck off a man's coat with a broad sweep of the hand in which all the fingers and thumb play a part. She is in all probability an athletic girl who excels at tennis, golf and the links and who will prove a high spirited, strong minded woman after marriage.

Then, again, the girl who puts a flower in a man's coat with her hand held jauntily upturned from the wrist and the flower held in the tips of her fingers is sure to be something of a coquette, while the maid who gives you only the tips of her fingers when she greets you in the drawing room or public street is probably an ambitious girl.—Chicago Journal.

Perishable Pearls.

Pearls are perishable. They cannot be considered a first rate investment like diamonds. After a time they decay. Sometimes a fine specimen will lose its luster and beauty within a few months, so that the possessor of such treasures does well to keep them put away in a sealed place. They consist of thin films overlaid one upon another, with more or less animal matter between the layers, and it is no wonder that they deteriorate.

Qualified His Statement.

She—To think that you once declared that you would love me as long as you lived! And now, although we have not been married a year, you care nothing at all about me! He—But, you see, when I told you I would love you as long as I lived I wasn't feeling very well, and I really didn't think I should live long!

Plenty of Advice.

"His trouble was just due to a neglected cold."

"A neglected cold? I don't believe there ever was such a thing. No man ever had a cold without having at least a dozen friends attending to it for him."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Ringing Speech.

Grayce—In a ringing speech last night George declared that he could not live without me, and asked me to be his wife. Gladys—In a ringing speech, eh? Grayce—Yes; and if you don't believe it, there's the ring!—Pittsburg Post.

NOTICE.

United States Land Office,
Gainesville, Fla., Dec. 29, 1904.

To Whom It May Concern:

Notice is hereby given that the State of Florida has filed in this office the following lists of lands selected by the State for School Indemnity under the Act of Congress dated February 28, 1901.

The following men, embraced in said lists, are in townships containing mineral claims of record, viz:

List 109, filed August 14, 1903, for E½ NW¼, NW¼ NW¼ & NE¼ SW¼ Sec. 20, Tp. 11 S., R. 17 E.

List 112, filed Sept. 25, 1903, for SE¼ SE¼ Sec. 18, Tp. 11 S., R. 17 E.

List 117, filed Jan. 9, 1903, for NE¼ NE¼ Sec. 28, Tp. 12 S., R. 17 E.

List 121, filed Oct. 5, 1903, for N½ NW¼ & SE¼ NW¼ Sec. 32, Tp. 11 S., R. 17 E.

A copy of said lists, so far as relating to these tracts, by descriptive subdivisions, has been conspicuously posted in this office for inspection by any person interested and the public generally.

Within the next sixty days following the date of this notice, under the departmental regulations of Nov. 27, 1896, (23 L. D. 490) protests or contests against the claim of the State to any of the tracts or subdivisions herein described, on the ground that the same are more valuable for mineral than agricultural purposes, will be received and noted for report to the General Land Office at Washington, D. C.

Failure to protest or contest the claim of the State to said land within the time specified will be considered sufficient evidence of its non-mineral character, and the selection being otherwise free from objection will be recommended for approval.

Justice J. A. Chamblin of Archer was among the visitors to Gainesville yesterday. Mr. Chamblin is among the best people of the Archer section, and has been justice of the peace for some time. He was recently elected to the same office.

B. F. Mathews of Tacoma, one of the progressive truckers of that section, was among those who favored Gainesville with a visit yesterday. Mr. Mathews paid The Sun office a pleasant call. He stated that the truckers in his section were as a rule making good crops and good shipments, and as a result were happy, as good prices were being realized.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Burts, on Thursday night, a fine boy. The youngster is an energetic little fellow, tipping the beam at twelve pounds, and it is safe to assert that Papa Burts, who is known far and near as "The Man Who Never Sleeps," will not sleep during the next few weeks. Friends extend congratulations and wish for Jesse, Jr., a life of prosperity and usefulness.

W. W. Stripling of Jacksonville, representing the W. B. Johnson Co., and a member of the firm, was among the visitors to this city yesterday. Mr. Stripling formerly resided here and has many friends in this section who are always glad to see him.

F. M. Clyatt of Clyatt's Station, agent of the Gainesville and Gulf at that station, was among the visitors to this city yesterday. Mr. Clyatt also conducts a general store, and says that trade was never better. This is an indication that the people of that section are prosperous.

After several days spent in this city as the guest of his mother, Mrs. Alice Milliner, William Milliner was returned to New York, where he holds a position as operator in the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company. Mr. Milliner has many friends in this section who will be glad to learn that he is prospering.

Messrs. McCormick and Beshea, who went several days ago on a hunt to Levy Lake, have sent thirteen squirrels and other game to friends here. They report that luck is "nothing extra," but declare that they are bagging their proportion. With the record of these sportsmen before us, if they do not return with a big "haul" they will be relegated to the rear.

R. B. Peeler of South Gainesville, one of the most progressive citizens in this section, has been appointed a delegate to the good roads convention, which will be held in Jacksonville. Mr. Peeler is ex-county treasurer, and has always been regarded as one of the most enterprising citizens of the county. As a result he received the honor of appointment as a delegate to this convention, which is duly appreciated.

CEMETERY ASSOCIATION.

Old Officers Were Re-elected at the Meeting Thursday.

An important meeting of Evergreen Cemetery Association was held at the home of Mrs. R. Wilson Thursday afternoon.

At this meeting officers for the ensuing year were chosen, and with the exception of one member of the executive board, all the old officers were re-elected. In the case of the executive board Miss Annie Norton was appointed to succeed Mrs. J. W. Wideman, who has removed from the city.

The ladies who compose the association are laboring in a noble cause, and deserve the assistance of the people generally in their efforts to keep the cemetery in good condition.

Attention, Odd Fellows.

The regular weekly meeting of Center Lodge No. 11, I. O. O. F., will be held at the lodge room over Dutton's bank this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired, and visiting brothers will receive a cordial welcome. There will be work in the Initiatory Degree.

READ THIS.

Ripley, Tenn., June 1, 1901.

Dr. E. W. Hall, St. Louis Mo.—Dear Sir: Having tried various remedies without satisfactory results, I was persuaded to give your "Texas Wonder" a trial. I have used one bottle, and although my case is one of long standing that baffled the skill of the best physician, yet it yielded at once to "The Texas Wonder," which I heartily recommend to all suffering from kidney and bladder troubles.

Yours truly,
W. H. BRUTON,
Pastor Baptist Church, Ripley, Tenn.

A TEXAS WONDER.

One small bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, seminal emissions, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women, regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1. One small bottle is two months' treatment and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Dr. Ernest W. Hall, sole manufacturer, P. O. box 629, St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonials. Sold by all druggists.

DISTRICT MEETING K. OF P.

District Deputy Grand Chancellor Has Made Arrangements for Alachua.

District Deputy Grand Chancellor W. E. Dow has made all arrangements to hold the next district convention with the Alachua lodge, Knights of Pythias. Mr. Dow states that the meeting will be held on the evening of February 16th, and that great preparations are being made to entertain the Brothers.

The last and only two conventions held in this district have been held with Mount Vernon Lodge of this city, both of which proved most enjoyable. Mount Vernon Lodge was selfish and desired to retain this city as the regular meeting place of the convention, but Alachua was awake and equally enthusiastic over the matter, with the result that it has been decided to honor that place with the next meeting.

D. D. G. C. Dow has not yet announced the program, but expects to place on the list orators from the various lodges comprising the district speakers of ability, and it is needless to add that the occasion will prove as beneficial as it will be enjoyable. There is some fine talent in the district, and it will be little trouble to prepare a program which will be a credit to the order and the district.

A Pleasant Occasion.

Mrs. Dr. Watson Porter entertained a number of her lady friends at the home of Mrs. Benj. P. Richards, North Oak avenue, from 2:30 to 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. There were forty-six invitations issued, the majority of whom responded, and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. Delicious refreshments, comprising salads, wafers and coffee, were served, and those who attended report a most delightful time.

BASEBALL TODAY.

Seminary Teams Will Cross Bats at Park This Afternoon.

The two baseball teams of the East Florida Seminary will cross bats at the park this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The captains of the teams, Roy Taylor and Harry Harman, have had their men down at hard practice for several days, and some snappy ball will be played. Both teams are working as hard for victory as if they were going up against one of the college teams.

The Seminary boys expect to put up a team that will eclipse any college team in the State. Some excellent material is at hand, and with the right kind of support a team can be developed that will cut a prominent figure in baseball circles the coming season. The boys say they are determined to redeem the football reputation of last fall, and ask the co-operation of the people of Gainesville.

The price of admission will be 10 cents, and the boys hope to see a good crowd present.

Imperfect Indigestion

Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties; the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion, infuses new life and vigor to the whole system. 50 cents a bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.
